

Call for Artist in Residence (AIR)
Latah Recovery Center, Inc.
531 S Main, Moscow, ID 83843

Application deadline: May 13th, 2022, Midnight Pacific Daylight Time for the second AIR residency. The third residency deadline will be on going until the residency is filled.

The Latah Recovery Center, Inc. (The Center) in Moscow, Idaho invites artists at all stages of their careers to apply for the Latah Recovery Community Center's Artist in Residence (AIR). The Center is a private, nonprofit organization serving people who are in recovery from addiction and mental health disorders. The Center seeks artists whose work can aide and amplify the voice for those in recovery.

This year, three (3) residencies will be awarded and will span three, 3-month periods starting in March 2022 and ending in November 2022.

The residencies will include individual solo exhibitions and receptions at the conclusion of each 12-week period. The AIR is expected to become familiar with The Center and the community it supports and is encouraged, but not required, to maintain a regular presence at The Center.

The Center is a partnership between people in recovery, family members, allies and local organizations who respect the dignity and equality of all people and who are dedicated to promoting healthy communities. During the 12-week residency, the AIR will be expected to engage the community in at least three (3) art-making activities aligned with the AIR's skills and interests and The Center's mission.

The Center provides:

- $500 stipend
- workspace, materials and equipment related to the AIR's community art-making activity
- solo exhibition and public reception at the Latah Recovery Center
- press and radio promotion

The Center does not provide:

- housing
- private studio space
- transportation
